

The Norwegian Association for Economists' prize for best paper by a PhD at the annual meeting

The Norwegian Association for Economists is pleased to announce that at the annual meeting in 2022 it will award a prize for the best paper presented by a PhD scholar. A summary of the winning contribution will be published in Norwegian in a special issue of the journal of the association, Samfunnsøkonomen. PhDs who coauthor a paper share the prize. Papers coauthored with researchers who are not current PhDs are eligible as long as they are presented by PhDs, but only the latter can receive the prize. Other things being equal, such papers will be ranked behind those written solely by PhDs. Eligible authors who want to participate in the competition should state their willingness to do so when submitting their paper. The winner(s) will be presented at the conference dinner.

Special Annual Meeting issue of Samfunnsøkonomen

In 2022, Samfunnsøkonomen will publish a special issue containing material from the annual meeting. In addition to the summary of the best PhD paper presented at the conference, the issue will include written versions of the three plenary lectures. A presentation of the winner of the prize for the best article published in the journal in the past year as well as the proceedings of Forskermøtet, which have featured in Samfunnsøkonomen in the past, will now be included in the special issue.
